Wintario sports equipment junk

Sports equipment sent to the municipalities from such projects as Wintario doesn't amount to much according to Dysart councillor, Gary McKnight.

Mr. McKnight called the equipment sent to the municipality "junk".

Wayne Wood, clerk-administrator of Dysart, pointed out that some time ago the municipality asked for some goal tending equipment in the largest size available but said all the municipality got was equipment in a smaller size.

He said last year there was a press release from the province stating that $500 in equipment was sent to Dysart but the equipment was not good. Mr. Wood said it would be better if the municipality was given the money to buy the equipment.

The comments on the Wintario equipment were made after the council was read a resolution from another municipality which requests that Wintario buy the equipment from local distributors in each community instead of in Toronto where the equipment is purchased now.

Dysart council lent its support to the resolution.

Veneer company needs guarantee to expand existing Wilberforce facility

Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Co., is hoping to upgrade its present facilities or build a new one, but the company needs a guaranteed supply of veneer lumber for the next six years.

Bruce Gibbs, wood superintendent for the company told The Echo that the main source of supply is within 50 miles of the area. He pointed out that it is from the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Algonquin Forest Authority and that the company is trying to work out an agreement with to get the six year supply.

He pointed out that they need to get wood in the grade one bracket or the best of grade two. Mr. Gibbs said that they are asking the province for less than half the lumber they need.

Mr. Gibbs said that the company needs 1,200,000 board feet and is asking the forest authority for 500,000 board feet.

He pointed out that the company has been turned down so far.

The plans for the company, which is located in Wilberforce are for the continuation and expansion of existing facilities to assure source of supply to provide needs of employees (including living accommodations) and to saw and cut veneer cores for pallet stock.

He said that a committee composed of people from Canada Manpower, company management and the union made these recommendations after a considerable period of study.

Mr. Gibbs said that as far as he knows Wilberforce Veneer is the only dimension veneer mill in eastern Canada. He pointed out that other veneer mills are into panelling, Wilberforce Veneer's only finishing products are trays and plates.

Wilberforce Veneer employs 58 people at the present time.

Resolution passed

Dysart council makes request for detachment

Reeve Murray Fearrey told a special meeting of Dysart Council that the Haliburton County Echo and the municipality are striving for the same thing, better police protection for Haliburton Village.

Reeve Fearrey pointed out at the meeting that the council has passed a resolution requesting that the Ontario Provincial Police establish a detachment in Haliburton.

The resolution is supported by the municipalities of Glamorgan and Monmouth.

In addition it was pointed out on the resolution that regional municipalities will soon have to police themselves instead of having OPP protection which would mean it wouldn't cost as much to put a detachment in Haliburton.

A letter with the request will be sent to the Ontario Provincial Police and a copy will also be sent to Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

At the special meeting of the council clerk-administrator Wayne Wood said that the council has been trying to get better police protection for the past 10 years.

"We are working towards a common purpose," he said in reference to editorials and stories which have appeared in The Echo over the past few years. Reeve Fearrey added that the council is not upset with any of the members of the Minden detachment of the OPP and the operation in Minden is doing a good job, "but we want one here."

Manpower will locate in Haliburton

Canada Manpower and Unemployment Insurance will be locating offices in Haliburton.

The announcement of the government agencies coming into the area was made at Dysart Council meeting, Monday.

Clerk-administrator Wayne Wood said that getting the office for Haliburton was touchy and the municipality had to keep the negotiations from the public.

He pointed out that the office will employ three people. Mr. Wood said it will be a "real service to the community."

Reeve Murray Fearrey added that it is better that the office be located in Haliburton than sending the people to Peterborough.

Work shortage possible

Dysart Councillor, Harold Bannon is afraid there will be no work for the municipal workers in January and February.

He asked at Monday's council meeting if there were any other programs other than winter works that the municipality could get involved in.

Mr. Bannon said, "We need more than winter works." He added that the municipality could be in serious trouble in January and February.

Anti Inflation Board

Teachers' increases rolled back

The Anti Inflation Board has cut both secondary and elementary school teachers' salary increase to eight per cent.

Richard Poole, the Chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education Salary Negotiation Committee told the Board on October 12 that in Haliburton, the eight per cent will not all go to the teachers as a direct raise in salary.

The increase will be a 7.8

per cent raise in salary on each grid position of the pay scale for teachers, and .2 per cent will go to group benefits.

The meeting was told that the elementary school teachers have accepted this settlement. Secondary teachers are still discussing the Board's policy. There is no question, however, of an increase greater than eight per cent.

Program considered

Dysart council will be looking at the possibility of getting involved in the Ministry of the Environment's derelict car program.

It was pointed out at Monday's council meeting that the program could possibly be done in the summer by students.

Councillor Harold Bannon

noted that the program would be a good thing for the community.

Reeve Murray Fearrey suggested that the council invite the Ministry to a meeting to explain the program.

"If we do create some employment it is a good idea," Reeve Fearrey commented.

He said the program would likely involve a dumping ground and would be administered by the municipality.

Group home children must pay at Browndale

Browndale Schools have told the Haliburton County Board of Education that special education students attending Browndale classes from other group homes in the county will have to pay for the use of the Browndale building. Teachers at Browndale are paid by the Ontario Government through the Haliburton Board of Education.

Director of Education, J.D. Hodgson is concerned about three boys from the Anson House home who have been told that they must pay to attend school.

Browndale teachers are attached to the staff of Archie Stouffer Public School and are under direction of the principal, Stuart Baker. According to an Ontario government program, a board of education, can receive government funds to hire teachers to work in group homes that are under the Ministry of Health. Two years ago, Browndale applied for five teachers and the Board has provided them. The agreement concerning the five teachers was renewed in the spring of 1976.

At present, there is a low enrolment of 20 students at Browndale, creating a student-teacher ratio of four to one.

Each school in the county has facilities for special education, but the student-teacher ratio at Browndale provides and ideal school environment that the regular schools cannot provide for some students, Mr. Hodgson explained.

The Browndale announcement that other group homes will have to pay for the use of the buildings for their students means that three boys from a group home under Dave Phillips are not in school.

Mr. Hodgson noted that the Browndale establishments have good results with their students. He will be mediating this week to get the boys back into school.

Share pound

Anson, Hindon and Minden will be able to use the Dysart dog pound.

Dysart council agreed that it would not be much of a problem to allow the neighboring municipalities the use of the building.

Councillor Harold Bannon pointed out that it would sure help pay for the Dysart pound.

Found guilty, impaired driving

Arnold W. McDougall, of Main Street, Stouffville, was tried before the Provincial Court in Minden on October 12 and was found guilty of impaired driving, driving while prohibited and with a breach of probation. He was given 30 days for impaired driving. He will also serve a 30 day concurrent sentence for breach of probation.

Guilty of impaired driving, Ian F. Minto of Minden will serve a 17 day intermittent sentence. He was also put on probation for 60 days with the injunction not to consume any alcohol for that period.

Area residents want more for tax dollar

A Dysart couple feel that they are not getting enough for the municipal taxes they are paying.

In a letter to council, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, of Betty Avenue pointed out that their taxes have increased by a great deal over the past few years.

They pointed out that their road is graded twice in the summer and the snow is not plowed in the winter.

Reeve Murray Fearrey commented that the Godfrey residence is zoned for seasonal use. He noted that a number of people are running into this problem where they want better servicing after two or three years.

Deputy Reeve Lloyd Conybeare said that Mr. Godfrey should be reminded of the fact that his property is zoned for seasonal use.

Reeve Fearrey said the municipality would like to plow all the roads eventually but right now do not have the facilities nor the money to do it.

Council asks ministry to move

Dysart Council wants the Ministry of Natural Resources to move its lands section office from Minden to Haliburton.

It was pointed out at Monday's council meeting that the ministry is operating the office out of a trailer in Minden while they have an empty building in Haliburton.

Reeve Murray Fearrey commented that this could be one way the ministry could save money.

Bill Scott, M.P. for Victoria Haliburton, Jim Gregory, Vice-President of the PineStone Inn's One 2 One Corporation, and John Eakins, M.P.P., enjoyed Sunday at the PineStone along with members of the media and others involved in the project. It was PineStone's grand opening weekend, and it really was grand. It's hard to tell whether these three have just finished the champagne brunch or the bar-b-q steak dinner. Both were excellent. There was also lots of time for guests to inspect the facilities, try out the golf course, tennis courts, pool and sauna. (See special PineStone section.)

A bursary of $100 will be available to all students graduating from the grade eight level in Haliburton County thanks to Mrs. Audrey Harris, who has instituted the bursary to be awarded each year that she continues to teach.

The award will probably take the form of a five year Victoria and Grey Bond given to the grade eight graduate who will be able to redeem the bond when he or she is ready to leave secondary school for higher education at a community college or university. A bank account has been opened for the purpose.

The bursary will be given on the basis of the student's need, marks and contribution to school life. The selection committee is to be made up of the school principals and J.D. Hodgson the Director of Education. The School Board was told at the meeting on October 12 that the arrangements have yet to be finally approved by Mrs. Harris.

Local teacher heading for armed forces base

Mr. P. R. Lerpiniere, a teacher with the Haliburton County Board of Education, has been granted a loan of service to the National Defence Overseas Dependents Schools.

At the meeting on October 12, the Board of Education was told by Director J.D. Hodgson that the two year position was with Armed Forces schools abroad. Teachers who request and are accepted for this leave of absence from the board by which they are employed, are paid their regular salary, by that board during their stay overseas. The Federal Government then reimburses the board for the total amount.

The Haliburton Board agreed to give Mr. Lerpiniere a leave of absence provided that satisfactory arrangements could be made for his return to the Haliburton Board at the end of the two years.

Teacher appointed head

Carl Wallace a teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, is to be appointed the Minor Head of the geography department at the school as of January 1977.

At its meeting on October 12, the Board of Education considered a request made by Brian Mosgrove, the principal of H.H.S.S. for the appointment of Mr. Wallace to the position.

Until this time, geography courses have had no formal leadership at the head level, the meeting was told. There are 15 classes and 351 students under this department. Geography forms a major part of Canadian Studies, of which two credits are needed for graduation.

Eakins continuing to meet councils

John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton, says he will continue meeting with the various municipal councils.

Mr. Eakins has already met with a number of councils in both Haliburton and Victoria Counties, and will continue to do so until all have been visited.

The Victoria-Haliburton member recently met with the Ops Township Council, and will meet Sherborne, McClintock and Livingston, at Dorset on October 18, with Somerville Township Council on October 19, and Laxton, Digby and Longford Township Council on November 2.

Mr. Eakins feels that since all municipalities live under the Municipal Act, it is most important that a good liaison be developed between municipalities, their M.P.P., and Queen's Park.

He said that he wants all citizens to feel they have access to the various ministries and that it is their right to expect good service from Queen's Park.

Fisher, Marten quotas

Dysart area trappers would likely be just as happy if the season on fisher and marten were closed instead of having the new quotas instituted by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Carmen Douglas, regional biologist for the ministry told the local trappers at a meeting last Saturday, "For years and years we have been kidding ourselves in setting quotas."

This year's quota for fisher in the Minden Number 2 area which takes in about two thirds of Dysart et al is one for every 20 square miles a trapper has. For Marten the quota is one for every four square miles.

Mr. Douglas explained the reason for the quotas noting the possibility of the animals not being able to reproduce fast enough to keep up with the take. He pointed out that one of the problems is a fast dwindling male population of the two fur bearing animals.

"We are heading straight into extinction," Mr. Douglas said.

He said that the fisher is worth too much to the trapper to completely close the season and pointed out that now that the season is ending in December most of the take are juvenile animals which are not as valuable on a reproduction basis.

He said the ministry is hoping the harvest will be cut in half, compared to what it has been.

Harold Bannon, a local trapper said he agrees with the idea of the closed season. He said he cannot see the quotas.

He said that as a zone, Minden Number 2 seems to be penalized more than most. He pointed out that around Norland where the fisher population is not too high they have a higher quota.

"As I look around the district I wonder how the quotas originated. Every person should be used equally," he said.

Mr. Douglas said that he does not want to close the season, "but we can if you insist." He suggested that the fisher quotas be issued but if the trappers don't want to trap they can shut the season down.

Mr. Bannon noted that if the season is cut off at least everyone is being treated equally.

Biologist says that trapper s holding own

Carmen Douglas, regional biologist for the Ministry of Natural Resources feels that trappers are holding their own in Ontario on the humane aspects of trapping compared to a number of areas of the United States.

He pointed out that though pressures from various humane societies trapping has been banned completely in a number of areas in the U.S.

Mr. Douglas was speaking to a number of Dysart area trappers last Saturday.

He pointed out that the ministry has been working closely with The Canadian Association for Humane Trapping to keep the business alive.

"A few years ago it looked like we might be compelled to stop trapping but it looks as though we are staff now," Mr. Douglas said.

Cross country trail to be built in park

Dysart Council has no objection to a cross country ski trail in Glebe Park as long as the skiers and snowmobilers can co-operate.

Dr. Karl Hartwick and Dr. Blair Pierce, representing the Haliburton Highlands Cross Country Club, a new organization which hopes to promote cross country skiing were at Dysart Council meeting Monday.

Dr. Hartwick told the council that cross country skiing is growing in popularity around Ontario but not as much as it could be in Haliburton.

He said that the club wants to build a five to six mile trail in Glebe Park to be open for skiing in the winter and hiking in the summer.

Dr. Hartwick suggested that some sort of cross country meet could be held during the Rotary Carnival weekend. He said there has been a tremendous success in a similar meet held in the Muskoka area.

Dr. Pierce pointed out that the club feels it needs a permanent trail. He said it would have to be about the size of a walking trail, about four feet wide. He noted that the trail would be well marked with signs.

It was pointed out by both men that the ski club and the Haliburton Snowmobile Club have been discussing the possibilities of a cross country ski trail and neither could see a problem with snowmobilers.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said that this is the type of thing the council tries to encourage. "I don't think there are any problems as far as we know," he added.

Board to subsidize St. John's course

The Haliburton County School board voted on October 13 to subsidize in part a St. John's Ambulance First Aid course for willing teachers of all schools in the county. It was said at the meeting that such training would be of tremendous value to both students and teachers.

J. D. Hodgson, Director of Education, noted that there is rarely a day that goes by in the large schools without an accident.

The Board received a letter from Ray Johnson, a teacher at the Senior Elementary School, who proposed the undertaking. He suggested that the Board pay the fee of $16.50 required for the course, or reimburse $10 dollars to those who successfully complete the course. A group of 20 is the minimum enrolment. A good deal of interest has already been shown.

Chairman of the Board, Floyd Johnson, who instructs the First Aid course, said that he couldn't state his support too strongly.

There was some discussions by members of the Board who felt that it is a course that people should want to take for their own benefit, without Board expenditure. Most members, however, felt that the expense to the Board was minimal for the advantage it would provide, especially to outlying schools that are further from medical help.

The Board consented to pay one half of the cost of the course to each teacher who successfully completes the final exam. In an effort to ensure that teachers from outlying schools also felt free to come, the Board agreed to pay travelling expenses for one car from each school to Haliburton where the course will be held.

Echo Editorials

Issues should remain in the fore front

In the past few weeks a number of attempts have been made to discredit news stories appearing in The Echo and in fact to discredit The Echo itself and its staff because of our belief that responsible journalism requires us to seek betterment of the community regardless of pressures brought to bear upon the newspaper.

It should be evident from past stories ranging over a period of years that The Echo in conjunction with the Council of Dysart et al has sought to bring better police protection to its ratepayers. A news story elsewhere in this issue again confirms the fact that The Echo and the council are in accord in seeking increased police protection for Haliburton. This is not to say that the editorial opinion of The Echo will always be in agreement with council but it is completely misleading to intimate that council and The Echo are at cross purposes in seeking betterment of the community as was done in the last week's editorial in The Minden Progress.

The Echo will not be goaded into mud slinging campaign of name calling as was done in The Progress in an attempt to divert attention from the real issue of additional policing for Haliburton.

Let yourself be known in election

Municipal elections will soon be with us. There not too far off. Municipal elections are held every two years now and this makes it a little more interesting for the voter. From all reports we could have some very interesting contests in the various municipalities this year and we are looking forward to many coming out and running for the various offices.

It is impossible to have good government unless people come forward and run. If you are thinking of running for office now is the time to start considering it and draw up your platform so you will have it ready when the times comes.

It is also impossible to have good government unless you the voters get out and cast your vote on election day. Men gave their lives so that you would have the right to vote in this democratic society.

Far too often people stay at home and couldn't care less about going out to vote and by doing so we do not get a good clear picture of who people would like to see in office.

This year why not think it over and make good and sure that you are out there on election day to cast your ballot for your favourite candidate. Just think what it would be like if the privilege of having a vote was taken away from you. We don't think you would like it very much. See you on election day.

Hunting season will soon be upon us

The hunting season is Haliburton County will soon be with us. Hunters from all parts of Ontario will be heading back to the Highlands for their yearly visit in the sport of shooting deer. While on the subject of hunting season we thought you might be interested in what John Power had to say about it in the Outdoors column published on Thursday, October 14th, 1976. We quote.

Ontario's deer hunting has a lot going for it if you don't count whitetails.

As nearly 90,000 sportsmen prepare for their annual northwoods safari, the prognosis is far from promising.

The harvest has been shrinking for years and 1974's slim pickings of 13,577 deer dipped by more than a thousand last season.

Game management experts hold little hope for a reversal of this trend without extensive range rejuvenation, which is expensive.

Dave Euler, Ministry of Natural Resources' deer specialist, reports that in 1975 the overall success rate was only 14.5 per cent. He estimates that the 86,000 nimrods who took to the field invested more than 465,000 days in the exercise.

But it wasn't an exercise in futility, even for the 73,500 who didn't bring home the bacon.

No scale can weigh the benefits of a week in the outdoors. Nor can you put a price tag on the camaraderie, the excitement or the thrilling sound of a choir of hounds.

POT SHOTS: Anti-hunters sure are scary, at the least the ones in the audience at yesterday's Bob McLean Show. Following the panel discussion on hunting, one recited a poem describing a trophy room decorated with human heads. Another challenged the sportsmen to a man hunt and later in the day, to prove he was serious telephoned one the panelists to reiterate his insane proposition.

Hunting season is drawing close and we thought that it would be a good time to run this hunting photo in our Pic of the Past. Shown above are four members of MacDonald's Hunt Club at Haliburton Lake with five deer

As others see it

Dear Editor:

I don't know why you are complaining about lack of police protection in Haliburton, as I for one think you are carrying on too much about matters of this concern.

Early last Tuesday morning (8:30), I was stopped and asked to show my driver's license, only to find out that I looked 27 years old. Very seldom do I drive into Haliburton that I don't see a police cruiser, and YOU say that they are not doing their job. It would appear to me that you do not print things as they really are. Instead of criticizing the police department, I think we as the public should support them.

W. Armstrong,
Haliburton, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

I received the October 13th copy of the Haliburton County Echo and read with interest your informative and interesting articles.

However, one item caused me to write and correct one piece of information. The item I refer to is one headed "Cottagers meet Council over Stanhope bylaw." The Maple Lake Property Owners Association was responsible for presenting to the meeting a brief outlining certain objections to the proposed bylaw. The Association is composed of 65 per cent cottagers and 35 per cent permanent residents, and the Executive is composed of 50 per cent cottagers and 50 per cent permanent residents. I think that you will readily understand the feelings of all the members of the Association when the term "cottagers" is used, when the correct term is "property owners".

Hoping that you will correct this impression and ensure in future that your reporting will be done in a more responsible way.

Sincerely,
A. Wall, President.

Dear Sir:

My mother who lives in Toronto, widow of the late Dr. Charles E. Frain, sent me a copy of your picture published on Wednesday, September 15th, 1976, of a class picture taken in school in 1928 in which you find me front and centre or little bit to the right.

This picture is rather familiar since I have a copy of it which I have dug out this evening and which I had tried to label the identity of the various people in 1943 when my memory of the people was better than now. My listings of the identities are somewhat different from those of Len Pearsell as published in your newspaper. I presume you may get more correspondence like this and clear up such matters. To begin with, I have no objection to your one identified as me except that you did not spell my name correctly.

I have identities added on my list which might be of interest to somebody. Your first blank-blank, I think was May Billings or was so when I filled it in 30 years ago, that would be the seventh student from the left in the back row. The last one in the back row looks attractive but I also can't place her name. In the second row, I have disagreement in the 2nd and 3rd girls. I agree the 1st is Mona Gibson and the 2nd is a Davidson but I think that the 3rd is Loretta and I didn't remember what the name of her sister who is probably in this class with us or at any rate in the room with us. Your unidentified girl in the middle was, I believe, Eva Sedgewick. Thank you for identifying Verna Conneymore and Annie Howe for me. I disagree that the boy next to that was Carl Hadley, to begin with Carl was the father of Don Hadley who is the next boy and that is Ron or Soup Campbell who is the high school's principal's son at that time. Front row, Len Pearsell and I agree with the way and of of course, Oscar Yarnold, I have identified the same last I heard he was still in Haliburton and I gather Len is too.

Would you convey my regards to my old classmate. I hope he is doing well.

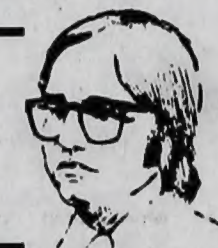

You'll notice that I am now in Winnipeg, practicing medicine and have been for 24 years.

Yours sincerely,

J. B. Frain, M.D. F.R.C.P.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

Objective journalism is the greatest link our society has to freedom. Without it we have a state like Russia or other iron curtain countries.

Our whole system is built on the objectivity of a free newspaper operating in a free society. We find it easy to criticize, and newspapers can easily become targets.

For the past six years I have reported meetings throughout Ontario, working both daily and weekly newspapers. The first lesson I learned and I think all reporters learn especially those involved in municipal government, is that our municipal system, being township, town, city or region, is the basis of all government.

At the local level we see grass roots politics, we see it at its best, and sometimes I feel as its most honest. Every good municipal council or member of council should welcome objective press coverage as a chance to show the people just how much work is being done.

Unless meetings are covered by the media, most people have little or no way of finding out what is happening in their community. Since coming to Haliburton I have found that a great deal of the news that filters down to the people is somewhat misinterpreted.

Seldom, in my experience, has any news media completely destroyed a story to the point where it has lost the meaning intended, and never have I seen a newspaper fail to own up to a mistake. I for one would not want to be associated with any company that does not admit to mistakes, or even more with a company that does not make mistakes, because anyone who does not make a mistake is not trying to do a proper job.

In The Echo's case we have admitted, since I have been with the newspaper to every mistake that was published in the newspaper, at least the mistakes that were brought to our attention that had sound reasoning behind them.

The only way to deal with a newspaper is on an open and honest level. This will be repaid at least in the case of The Echo. One must never forget who he is talking to when approaching or being approached by a good news reporter.

First of all it is up to the reporter to weigh the value of the story to the public and then it comes across the editor's desk. He is required to give it its just play concerning the issues it covers.

No doubt we have to and have established good working relationships with a number of people in the area, people we feel can aid us in our search for news and people who have a story to tell.

There are also people who are approached solely on the news value of a pertinent issue. The Echo requires that all of its people working on a news story find out if the person they are talking to is aware that they are speaking to the public.

If you are talking to me or any other reporters from this newspaper the first lesson is to make it perfectly clear whether you want the story published or not (even at that it is still up to the reporter to make the final decision). If the reporter hesitates or will not give that agreement, do not say anymore about the subject, it will only lead to bad feelings.

In recent weeks I have been questioned about my sources of information and at times my sources of information have been discredited.

Certainly at times I will be and have been misinformed or misled by a news source, but that is my problem and something I have to find out myself.

Haliburton county deserves good objective coverage of news events. That is what The Echo is endeavoring to do and will continue to do in the tradition of the county's oldest newspaper.

Fifteen old model cars drove to the opening festivities at the all new PineStone on Sunday in time for the champagne brunch. The drivers were members of the Antique Auto Club of America, Ontario Region, and were staying at Wig-A-Mog Inn, where they have been coming for eight years on their Fall Foliage Tour. Some of the members' cars were left at home, because of the lateness of the season. None are equipped with heaters, since they really believe in keeping the cars in their original state. In last Sunday's chill weather, it had to be a strong conviction.

Delegations concerned about no plan

Concern for the lack of any official plan for land development in Anson, Hindon and Minden was expressed by two separate delegations to the municipal council last week.

Hindon and Minden council ruled that only three of the lots met with the bylaw requirements of the municipality. Final approval of any of the lots has not yet been given.

Cottagers who signed the petition were not aware that the properties in question were not on a bay that they say is already over-crowded.

The second delegation to council was made by Morgan Loucks and Harvey Burgess of the Canning Lake Cottagers' Association. Their objection also centered around the development of back lots that they believed were to have access to the lake and would cause overcrowding.

Elmer Hodson who was proposing the development of a possible six lots told the cottagers that the plan was intended to remedy a right of way problem.

It would also clear up an unused gravel pit that has been the site of some disturbances in the past. Water access was not necessary to these lots, Mr. Hodson noted, since other permanent houses on the same road have no access.

The cottagers asked the municipality to defer a decision on Mr. Hodson's back lots until such time as an official plan is devised. They were answered by the Clerk, Richard Parisotto, who advised them that it would be a minimum of three or four years or longer before an official plan would be available. Dysart et al has an official plan approved in part, he said, that took seven years to obtain.

Reeve Booth outlined Anson, Hindon and Minden's controls on land development and noted that the controls have been in effect for a considerable length of time. The council began planning in 1960, he said. By 1962 they had devised a restricted area bylaw that was not given official approval until 1968. This was the first restricted area bylaw in effect in the area.

Reeve Booth noted that Dysart et al does not have such a bylaw.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Council, he said, is on record as being in favor of an official plan. A plan was being discussed last year but was dropped for the time being since the government withdrew a major part of its financial support. The Province may in the future assist in planning if a whole region will agree to it.

Councillor Bob Gorrie told the cottagers that if they were "aiming at good control, I feel that our present bylaws have that."

Legion News

The Regular monthly meeting of Branch 129 Haliburton was held in the Legion Hall Thursday Oct. 7. President Mel Robertson was in the chair. Several new Ordinary Members and one Associate member were initiated. The Building Committee has had one meeting since the Sept. meeting and will shortly bring in a complete report on the renovations and remodelling of the Hall. Operation Service is underway and the chairlady would appreciate hearing from anyone who knows of veterans or widows not connected with Legion. See our ad elsewhere in the paper and encourage these people to fill in the form and send it to the Legion. There has been much Legislation enacted for the benefit of veterans and dependents over the years and you have to go after it, the Government is not going to come looking for you. The Legion is undertaking this job as an Anniversary Year Project and we want to find as many people as possible.

Once again Remembrance Day is approaching and the Legionnaires and their friends will be selling Poppies and canvassing the Local businesses. This is the Legions' only request for money and we would ask you to be generous when the canvasser calls on you. This year Operation Service expenses will be paid out of the Poppy Fund, as directed by Dominion Command.

Learning conference for new trustees

The Ontario School Trustees' Council has announced that there will be a learning conference for all newly elected trustees that will be held from February 10 to 12 of 1977.

The conference will include instruction in areas such as the Education Act, Budget, School Board Operations, curriculum, public relations, regional offices, policy making and collective bargaining.

The Ontario School Trustees' Council is a body which incorporates members from four affiliated trustee associations across Ontario.

The Haliburton County Board of Education belongs to the Ontario Public School Trustees' Association, one of the affiliates of the Trustees' Council which serves both elementary and secondary schools. The three remaining associations are the Northern Ontario Trustees' Association, the Ontario Separate Schools Trustees' Association and the Ontario French Language Trustees' Association.

The learning conference, as a function of the Trustees' Council which attempts to be province wide in scope, is available to all new trustees.

Council wants to curb budworms

Dysart Council is looking for a program to help curb the Spruce Budworm problem which is killing spruce trees.

Reeve Murray Fearrey suggested to the council Monday that there must be a way to get funding for such a project.

He noted that there is "quite an outbreak" in Haliburton and some of the trees are on crown land.

Lloyd Coneybeare, deputy reeve, said that there should be some way to prevent the budworm from spreading.

Reeve Fearrey noted that perhaps the idea is to harvest the trees already damaged by the budworm.

He added that this would also create work in the area during the winter.

Deputy Reeve Coneybeare asked if there was a program to spray some of these trees already damaged? Which he said is the program "we should be looking at."

The council plans to consider both possibilities.

Eakins agrees with extension of OHRP

John Eakins, M.P.P., Victoria-Haliburton, says the extension of the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) is one which he agrees with and which he has fully supported and encouraged. Mr. Eakins said that he feels it is a good investment and in the long run will be much more reasonable financially than more costly Urban Renewal Programs. He said that anyone interested in more information should contact their municipal clerk or may call Mr. Eakins' constituency office.

"Extending Ontario's program will conserve and improve existing housing stock by expanding the Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) to include rental accommodation and thereby help upgrade rental units occupied predominantly by low and moderate income families," he said.

There are many older dwellings which can be renewed to provide affordable, adequate accommodations for families of low and moderate incomes, Mr. Eakins added.

It is now the intention of Queen's Park to extend this approach beyond the home owner and include tenants as well.

The program will be administered by local municipalities and will only be available to those municipalities that operate an approved maintenance and occupancy standards by-law and have participated in the Ontario Home Renewal Program.

"An integral part of this program is the requirement for a participating landlord to enter into a rental agreement by which rents will be set according to a pre-determined formula," Mr. Eakins said.

In addition, regulations require that it must be demonstrated that the building of a landlord who wishes to join the program is owned predominantly by families with low or moderate incomes.

The Ontario program has three goals:

- the upgrading of units in existing buildings whose height does not exceed four storeys;

- the conversion of existing commercial premises to create new rental units;

- the conversion of single family homes to create new rental units.

No funds will be available for buildings used as a lodging or rooming house.

Landlords will be able to obtain loans not to exceed $10,000 per dwelling unit. The loan can include a forgivable portion which is not to exceed $3,750.

The size of the forgivable portion is related directly to the cost of the rehabilitation. For loans of up to $5,000, the maximum forgivable portion is $2,500. This increases in increments of $250 for each additional $1,000 in the size of the loan to the $10,000 loan maximum.

Interest rates on all loans will be fixed at eight per cent per annum, and the repayable portion of the loan will be amortized over a 20 year period.

Report from Queen's Park

by MPP John Eakins

On October 6th, Ontario's Education Minister announced changes in the Province's educational system. The Liberal Party had for some time made no secret of the fact that we intended to unveil our education policy at a fund-raising dinner to be held on that date, and the Minister was certainly aware of our intentions. From statements made by our Party's representatives in recent months, as well as during - and prior to - the last election campaign, he must also have had a clear idea of what our "New Directions for Education" would be. Obviously, then, neither the timing of his announcement, nor the direction of his changes can be looked upon as coincidental.

Calling a hasty press conference, the Minister outlined the changes or "refinements" which had been decided upon - mainly that more solid "core" subjects such as English, Mathematics, Canadian history and geography will be required subjects for students entering Grades IX and X at the beginning of the 1977-78 school year. While we welcome the Government's refinements we regret that there is still no guarantee that firm guidelines will be established to ensure that students throughout Ontario will be given comparable instruction, and assessed on similar achievement valuation standards.

Ontario's educational system is financially supported by the taxpayers in the belief that a literate, skilled and articulate population is vital for the well-being of this Province. Our schools have a vital role to play in helping and encouraging our young people to become productive members of society, informed citizens, able to meet the challenge of today's competitive world. Under the existing educational system in this Province, as Liberal Leader Stuart Smith has pointed out, "pupils are placed in an environment where the degree of free choice is excessive for their level of maturity and inconsistent with the real world, creating unrealistic expectations."

We believe that standards must have a place in our educational system, at every level, as they do in the public service and private enterprise, where individuals are evaluated against specific performance criteria. Province-wide educational standards would provide a yardstick against which pupils, parents, teachers and administrators could measure accomplishment.

Our Party has long advocated a required core curriculum, and our recommendation is that at least one-half of the instructional time (and most prescribed homework) in the Primary and Junior Divisions of our schools should encompass English reading comprehension (Francais in francophone schools); formal communication skills such as precision in spelling, grammar, punctuation and spoken language; second language and culture (as trained teachers become available); arithmetic computation, measurement and associated problem solving; basic Canadian studies; fitness and health education.

Students who have progressed to the Intermediate Division (Grades 7 to 10) should have obtained a basic grounding in language and arithmetic. Therefore, the core curriculum could be extended, with the basic skills serving as a foundation. The core in this division should be composed of five major areas: Reading and Composition; Mathematics; Science; Social Science (including Canadian studies); Second Language and Culture.

One of the fundamental shortcomings of the present educational systems is the almost total lack of curriculum structure in secondary schools. The open credit method places intolerable burdens of choice on young pupils and their parents. There is a widespread recognition that pupils cannot adequately choose well-balanced programs of study, that parents and teachers currently have insufficient knowledge of pupils' attainment and interests to offer meaningful guidance.

We have in "New Directions for Education", recommended the establishment of a fourth or Senior Division, to begin at Grade XI. Pupils at this level should have already attained a significant common background in basic knowledge, and a wide exposure to numerous subjects. Therefore, this Division would appear to be the appropriate environment in which to introduce a basically optional or elective program of study.

In our view, province-wide examinations, based on minimum standards of attainment in core courses, would provide a necessary degree of accountability. These examinations would be taken by pupils at the end of the final year of each Division (after teachers have submitted final grades for that year). In this way, the examinations would be diagnostic - not counted in course grades - and would provide province-wide evidence which would permit pupils and parents to gain an improved perspective of development of scholastic abilities, and more realistic expectations about the future. The examinations would also enable teachers to evaluate teaching methods and grading criteria, and administrators to determine strengths and weaknesses in the schools under their jurisdiction.

Such examinations would also be useful in determining eligibility for entry to colleges and universities. At present, a major difficulty facing admissions officers in institutions of higher learning is the great disparity in grading practices and course content in the Province's secondary schools. Commenting on our education policy, a recent "Toronto Star" editorial maintained that "the return of province-wide examinations at the end of high school is emphatically necessary to correct the loss of recognizable standards in high schools. There is so much variation now that university admission offices don't know whether a student's high school graduation standing means anything in terms of his readiness to tackle college work. This also accounts in part for the fact that students who can't read or write properly are showing up in universities."

VALLEY Comfort

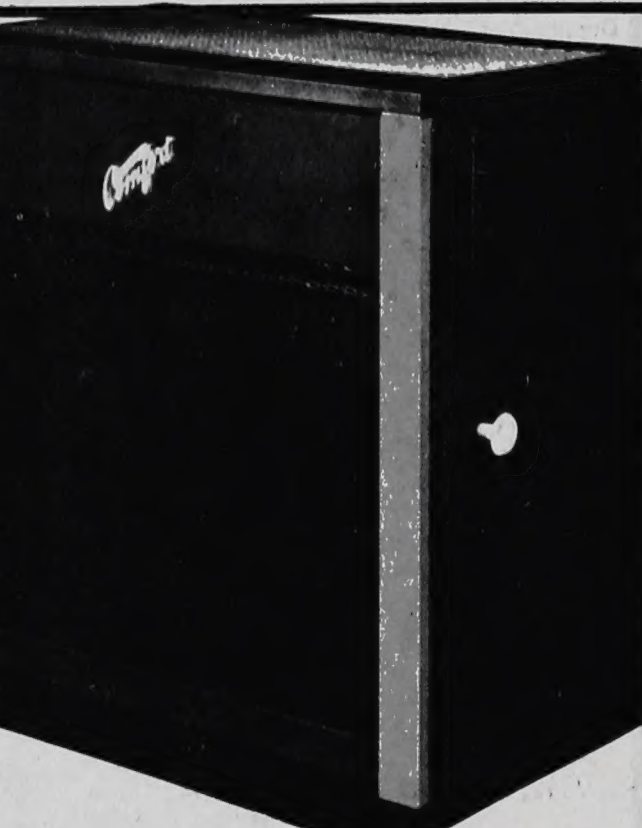

How a Valley Comfort heater works.

Valley Comfort heaters are a new generation of Wood Burning Heaters. Unlike the wood stoves and fireplaces of old that allowed a great deal of good heat and combustible gases to disappear up the chimney, the Valley Comfort operates on a more efficient principle.

In the first stage of combustion of wood (the distillation process), the wood is dried out but it also gives off combustible gases. The gases could not be burned efficiently in the older designed heaters as the burning wood passed through the distillation stage too quickly.

The Valley Comfort Automatic Thermostat controls the rate of distillation and allows the combustible gases to be burned at a controlled rate to produce useful heat.

After the distillation process is completed, all of the wood in the heater has been changed to charcoal.

Once this has occurred, the Valley Comfort Automatic Thermostat controls the rate of burning so that a single filling of good wood can last up to 12 hours and possibly longer (depending on the thermostat setting).

The optional Valley Comfort Automatic thermal fan control and fan assembly improve the efficiency of the heater, enabling it to easily heat the extremities of the room.

Valley Comfort Heaters come in two sizes. The model C-26, for 1 to 5 rooms and the model C-31 for 3 to 7 rooms.

By Jim Badgley

The PineStone Inn was to be opened in the summer of 1976 and as Innkeeper Art Ward pointed out that they made it by one day. The Inn was well worth the wait though.

During the past few weeks I have had the pleasure of looking around the facilities, both on my own and under the direction of Mr. Ward and through these tours I have come to the conclusion that PineStone offers Haliburton County a little something extra as a resort area.

Being an avid golfer, my biggest impression still comes from the nine hole golf course which I am told will eventually be expanded to 18 holes.

As new golf courses go, PineStone is in excellent condition, and no doubt will offer golfers from Haliburton County and other areas of the province an excellent opportunity to try their shot making abilities.

Golf isn't the only sport featured at PineStone. For those caught up in the tennis craze, (tennis has become the fastest growing sport in the world) the Inn also features all-weather surface tennis courts.

If golfing and tennis aren't exactly what you had in mind for a sporting weekend in Haliburton, or if you are the all around sportsman type PineStone also has snowmobile trails, nature and cross country ski trails, a heated outdoor pool, a Finnish sauna, boat docking and a private sandy beach on Lake Kashagawigamog.

The small lake, in front of PineStone is not there just for its beauty, although it provides plenty of that, it will also be stocked with speckled trout for the pleasure of the guests.

If the sporting aspects of PineStone aren't enough, hopefully you will find, like I have, that the gourmet dining room provides an opportunity to enjoy excellent meals under a quiet relaxed atmosphere while either looking out over the lake or feeling the warmth from the fireplace.

Beside the dining room is the lounge, which Mr. Ward says was designed so that guests will have the opportunity to relax in a quiet conservative atmosphere, perhaps to talk over the next day's plans to explore Haliburton or to discuss the good and bad shots made on the golf course. It also provides the type of atmosphere needed by business men hoping to clinch a big deal.

Living in Haliburton County I can only say I am proud that we have a facility like PineStone for all of us to enjoy.

Curling Club hopes to hold Saturday night socials

The Haliburton Curling Club is hoping there will be enough interested people in the community to have social fun curling Saturday nights.

The club held its annual general meeting last Wednesday with 25 persons in attendance.

It was noted in a news release that new club rules were adopted and the executive presented many new plans for the club.

"The club is not incorporated under the laws of Ontario and can take advantages of various grants and funds available for improvements and renovations," it was stated in the release.

The ice will be put in any day and the club is hoping the regular schedule of curling will begin around Nov. 8.

"Any newcomers to the community or other people interested in joining the curling club are asked to contact Jean Colliver 457-2547 and get all of the details," it pointed out in the release.

A letter will be mailed to all of last year's members with the details of the coming season.

Prior to the opening of the season there will be a week of instruction and coaching ice time. "This will hopefully attract newcomers to the sport and give everyone some practice before the season starts," the release stated.

"Another full season of league play (mens, ladies, mixed and school) and bonspiels has been planned and the club is looking forward to another successful year of fun and recreation," it said in the release.

On Monday night the Haliburton Huskies Junior D team was on the ice for their first time this season, but not for their first practice. Under the direction of coach Craig Stamp, the team has been working out in dry-land practice for the last two weeks. Now that they are on the ice their conditioning is showing, or maybe its the continuing hard work that looks so impressive. Coach Stamp says that it is a fairly new team, but the training that they are getting should stand in good stead of experience.

Midgets sport new jackets

The Haliburton Huskies Midget D team have lots to show for their successful year in the 1975-76 season. They finished as semi-finalists, losing the final game by only one point. Each was given a small trophy in addition to the larger team trophy.

They also now have jackets, purchased with the help of Haliburton business who were very generous in their donations to the club.

Eakins

"These low interest rates and the extended repayment period, together with the rental agreement already built into the program should prevent unreasonable rent increases," Mr. Eakins said.

He added that he understands that provincial funding will be aimed at the repair of faulty structural and sanitary conditions as well as upgrading of plumbing heating and electrical systems.

For the remainder of the 1976-77 fiscal year $2,000,000 will be allocated for this program which will serve as a benchmark for determining future need and funding arrangements.

Provincial grants of up to $250,000 will be allocated to municipalities on the basis of need. These funds will be made available directly to local municipalities where regional governments do not exist, or do not wish to assume responsibility.

Municipal applications for funding for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1977 must be received by the Ministry of Housing not later than December 31, 1976.

Sponsors of the jackets, which were ordered in May came about two weeks ago, were: LaRue Motors, Kennedy Surplus, The Ol' Barn, Red and White, Stedmans, Boice Motors, Lakeshore Marine, Emmerson Lumber, Giles Connely, Esso, Arrow T.V., Ed Youngdale and Co., Driftwood Restaurant, Curry Bishop Ltd., Floyd Hall Insurance, Haliburton Lumber, Mark Vasey Insurance, B. Water storage

The storage in the reservoirs was 44 per cent of maximum on October 12th of this year, compared to 30 per cent at the same time last year. Flows from the reservoirs remained nearly the same until the end of navigation on the 13th, after which flows were increased to pass the excess water in storage and enable the setting of winter logs in the dams. The normal draw-down of Hawk Lake was resumed.

The Kawartha Lakes remained near maximum levels until the end of navigation, then were allowed to drop a few centimetres, thus giving some storage in case of heavy fall rains. Otonabee River flows have remained above the minimum all week, and will be increased as the excess water from the reservoirs passes through the System.

People are advised that the safety booms above some navigation and reservoir dams are being removed for the winter, and extra caution should be exercised near these dams.

What's N.E.W.

Nutrition Week

What's N.E.W. (other than this slogan for Nutrition Week)? N.E.W. is Nutrition Every Week although nutrition is getting special emphasis for the next few days.

Advice on eating healthful foods is Nutrition Week, and it's on right now. Local Health Units are publishing the Week to try and make people more aware of the fact that "you are what you eat."

To see how you add up nutritionally, try the Five Point Lunch Plan that the Haliburton, Kawartha, and Pine Ridge District Health Unit has distributed. Begin by counting the number of foods on your plate the next time you sit down for lunch. There should be at least one food from each of the following food groups: milk or alternatives, meat or alternatives (eg. meat, fish, peanut butter, poultry, eggs, baked beans), fruit or juice, vegetable of juice, whole grain or enriched bread.

Give yourself one point for each food group present and score according to this list: 5: You're a nutrition expert! 4: Not bad, as long as this doesn't happen every day. 3: Better have a chat with your local dietician/nutritionist. 0-2: Aren't you glad you have good OHIP coverage?

If you don't do very well on the lunch test, maybe you need to hear about Canada's Food Guide again. Most people are exposed to the Food Guide in school, but unless it becomes part of everyday, it doesn't do much good.

The Food Guide outlines what foods are good for you and how often you should eat them. Milk is important. Children up to 11 years should drink 2 1/2 cups a day. Adults should drink 1 1/2 cups and expectant and nursing mothers 4 cups.

Fruit or juice should be served twice a day, including a satisfactory source of Vitamin C.

You should have two servings of vegetables each day, preferably yellow or green, and frequently raw, and one serving of potatoes. Vegetables are usually low calorie when served without sauces or butter.

One serving of whole grain cereal should be had a day, and one serving of bread with butter or fortified margarine. Even in diets this food is important.

Meat and protein alternatives are also necessary. One serving a day of meat fish or poultry is a must, and it is a good idea to eat liver occasionally. Eggs, cheese, dry beans or peas may always be had in place of meat and eggs and cheese should be eaten at least three times a week.

There are lots of ways to cut calories, costs, and preparation time and still stay within the Food Guide's outline. Snacks, too, don't have to lack food value.

The students at Archie Stouffer Public School are learning about nutrition this week. Students of Home Economics study nutrition as a part of the course. This week to, there is a competition among the junior students for the class that brings the most nutritious lunches. So try the lunch test for a few days (but don't forget that all-important breakfast) and really think about the food you eat. It's the only thing you have to go on.

Leadership changes in Guides

The 1976-77 season for Guiding has begun in the Haliburton District. This year there are a few changes in leadership in the District.

Former commissioner, Mrs. Robert Freeman has left the area, her term as commissioner here has expired. The new District Commissioner is Mrs. Sandra Curry, former Captain of the 1st Haliburton Company. Deputy Commissioner Mrs. Carol Roubie resigned in June due to a transfer. Mrs. Eileen Phipps and Mrs. Betty Roberts former Lieutenants of the 1st Haliburton Company will now be badge testers. Mrs. Roberts will also be in charge of public relations. Mrs. Darlene McKnight is now District Treasurer and Mrs. Evelyn Brooks is District Secretary.

The new Captain of the Haliburton Guide Company is Miss Sheila Elston who has been in Brownies and Guides before. Mrs. Jane Rosenberg, a former Brownie Guide and Ranger is the new Lieutenant. They have many new and different ideas to keep the girls interested in Guiding.

Haliburton Brownie leaders, Mrs. Claire Higgins Brown Owl of the 1st pack, Mrs. Louise Sisson Brown Owl of the 2nd Brownie pack.

Minden Guide leaders Captain Miss Betty Perugini Lieutenant Mrs. Arlene Edwards, Brownies Mrs. Lee Barnes Brown Owl.

Carnarvon Guides Captain Mrs. Barb Fryer Lieutenant Mrs. Alice Hogg. Brownies Mrs. Yvonne Penny Brown Owl and Mrs. Catharine Thomas Tawny Owl.

West Guilford Guides Captain Miss Janice Mulholland, Lieutenant Mrs. Kittie Aggett.

Brownies in West Guilford are in need of a leader. Anyone interested would they please get in touch with either Mrs. Sandra Curry of the Guide leaders in that area.

Wilberforce Guides Captain Mrs. Mary Barker Lieutenant Mrs. Donna Burroughs Brownie leader Mrs. Roberta Walsh Brown Owl and Mrs. Erma Dack Grey Owl.

The Haliburton parent committee is in need of support. Any parent wishing to help with phoning, transportation, fund raising etc. would they get in touch with either Mrs. Jean Neville or Mrs. Brenda Gow. The girls depend on this support and also the fund raising for badges, enrolment pins, emblems, camping equipment trips etc. We would like to see the parents become more involved. Guiding helps the girls develop skills in a way that is fun, exciting and challenging.

Some of the badges the girls are earning are, aviator, astronomer, athletic badges, camping badges, baker badges, canoeist, citizen, conservationist, skating badges, first aid and fire badges, friend to the handicapped, homemaker, housewife, knitter, laundress, music badges, seamstress, child care. Some of these badges we have special testers for.

IT ISN'T THE THING YOU DO;
IT'S THE THING YOU LEAVE UNDONE.
WHICH GIVES YOU A BIT OF HEARTACHE
AT THE SETTING OF THE SUN.

From reading this column in which I refer to barbecues, parties, bus rides, etc., one might conclude that a Nursing Home is a kind of glorified Recreational Centre. That would be a misconception. There is the other side of the coin. We don't say too much about it because we all have our troubles and problems. Besides that, we want to forget them. Until I came here, I did not realize that when one passes 65 to 70 they have entered the "aging" process period when many things can happen. Just as a motor car that has gone over 100,000 miles has parts that have worn out, to older people experience this same problem. We all hope that when the end comes it will be short. We don't like to think that sometimes this aging period can last for several years.

The 400 Nursing Homes in Ontario deal mostly with persons already handicapped by this aging process of life. Some older persons require a great deal of attention - others less. It is up to the Doctors and Nurses to decide how much should be done for each person. Sometimes they make the mistake of doing too much and in some rare cases not enough. In the outside world Society makes the mistake of doing too much for children. We should not do for a child anything that the child can do for itself. The important thing is not what we do for the child, but rather what we help the child to do for itself and for others.

I ran into a good example of this many years ago. It was a bitterly cold Sunday and as we came out of Church a mother in a rather petulant voice turned to her 10 yr. old son and said, "where's your hat", and then before you could say Jack Robinson she dug into his pocket, found the hat and planted it on the poor kid's head. Then she noticed that his overcoat was unbuttoned and getting more angry by the minute she said, "don't you know enough to button up your overcoat", while she had already commenced to do so. The final insult came when she noticed that his nose was running. She dug into his pocket, remarking as she did so "when will you ever learn to wipe your nose, button up your coat and put your hat on". Well by this time I was about fit to be tied. I had a terrible urge to say, Madam, the answer is never, never so long as you persist in short circuiting the process through which he must go if he is ever to learn these skills. We learn to do by doing, there is no other way. We must encourage our children to practice what we want them to be, or admit failure. The reverse is also true namely that what we fail to use, we lose. Some men who like "Topsy" have had to work out their own salvation have made great executives. It is one thing to Mother a child, it is something else to Smother it.

Contrary to what many people think, the mere presence of an idea does not change one's behaviour. There are lots of people who know what is right but who have not the slightest intention of doing it.

Heritage money

As much as 20 percent of the renovation costs to the Dystart Municipal offices could be reimbursed by the Heritage Foundation.

The foundation, in a letter to the council, asked for photos and a history of the building.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said the council was hoping to get some funds from the foundation.

It was pointed out at the meeting that there is a good chance that the municipality will receive the funds.

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIDSON - In cherished memory of a dear husband and father, David Davidson, whom God called home October 20th, 1973.

Sadly missed, along life's way. Quietly remembered every day. No longer in our lives to share. But in our hearts, you're always there.

Fondly remembered by wife Josephine and family.

In Memoriam

DAVIDSON - In loving memory of our dear brother, David, who passed away October 20th, 1973.

The rolling stream of life goes on
But still the vacant chair,
Recalls the love, the voice,
The smile
Of the one who once sat there.
No length of time can dim the past
Too many memories hold it fast
As you were, you will always be Forever in our memories.

Ever remembered by five sisters, Annie, Rena, Sadie, Evelyn and Therna.

Official opening

The official presentation of the Thermography unit from 1WY - Peterborough Women's Committee and the Soroptimist's International of Peterborough to Peterborough Civic Hospital will take place on Oct. 21 at 5:00 P.M. in the Conference Room at the rear of the Cafeteria, first floor, Peterborough Civic Hospital.

Along the Trail by Roy Bates

Winter is just around the corner. You can tell by the chill in the air, the frosted windshield almost every morning, plenty of parking space in town, and occasional snowflakes falling on your head. It's time to make preparations to enjoy another long Highland winter. We might as well enjoy it, most of us can't escape it.

Winter is a fun time if you're a snowmobiler, and in Haliburton this year you should enjoy your public trails, lengthened considerably last year, with concentration on dryland routes for safe riding in the early season, and the new grooming technique adopted by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association will ensure greater riding comfort.

Now that the leaves are down and the last insects of summer are long gone, HCSA work parties are out every weekend putting trails in shape for grooming, cutting new ones, and building bridges. These projects require quite a lot of labour. Any snowmobiler who expects to enjoy the improvements should make an effort to join at least one of the work sessions. We think you will enjoy a few hours in the Autumn woods, and we know you'll enjoy the fruits of your labour when the snow comes.

Snowmobile Operators Training Program

It is a requirement of law in Ontario that every snowmobile operator be in possession of either a motor vehicle drivers licence or a snow vehicle operators' licence. The latter has not been available until this year. It will be available shortly.

Under the program, a special course devised by the Ontario Safety League, and approved by the Minister of Transportation and Communication, will be given under the direction of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs by authorized instructors from snowmobile clubs throughout the Province. Approximately 200 instructors have so far been selected to take a special course of training from 20 previously trained master instructors. This portion of the program is under way now and is expected to be completed in November. Immediately thereafter, each qualified instructor will set up a driver training school for applicants in the course.

The snow vehicle operators license is available only after successful completion of the course. This will ensure that the licensed operator has a thorough knowledge of snowmobile safety practices. He (or she) will also learn about the capabilities of the machine and the regulations governing its use. The course is available to anyone not now in possession of a drivers licence who is over the full age of twelve years. It takes six hours.

Watch you local paper for an announcement (in about a month) of the first classes in your area.

One might ask why is the course given only through snowmobile clubs. The answer is very simple. There is not, to date, a single recorded fatality in Ontario directly associated with a snowmobile club activity. The members and families of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs last year rode an estimated ten million snowmobile miles.

Report from Parliament
By William C. Scott M.P.

The recent resignation of Defence Minister James Richardson from the cabinet should serve as a warning to Canadians that all is not well with their government in Ottawa, or with their country.

Mr. Richardson cannot be considered as just another disenchanted Liberal, nor could he be put down as just another minister who couldn't stand the pressure of his office. His departure from the federal cabinet goes much deeper.

The real clue to the defence minister's resignation is contained in the first paragraph in Richardson's letter of resignation. He says, "It is time for someone to speak openly and frankly to Canadians about the danger to Canada of entrenching language rights in the Constitution under a Quebec veto."

Prime Minister Trudeau favours a plan for amending the Constitution that will include entrenchment of French in the Constitution on a level with English, with Quebec being given the right to veto any proposed amendment that might infringe on Quebec's language or cultural rights.

Richardson points out, and with good reason, that it would be a serious mistake to entrench French language rights in the Constitution before it can be determined whether or not bilingualism will work out. Indications are that bilingualism has already been proved to be unworkable, and this could be the main reason why Trudeau and Bourassa are so anxious to have French language rights inserted into the Constitution, where they will remain for all time.

If the Prime Minister has his way, the Canadian Constitution will be so inflexible that future Canadian governments will be forever faced with a one province veto of any amendment to our Constitution. It could end up as an instrument of blackmail, forcing a federal government to amend the Constitution only in ways that would suit a particular province.

Ontario would also be given the right of veto in the Trudeau plan, and I believe that this would also be a serious mistake, mainly because it is important not only to avoid giving one province such a dominant position over the provinces, but to avoid even the impression that any province has that power.

When this formula was approved at the Victoria Conference in 1971 it was thought that the federal government's bilingualism program had a fair chance of succeeding. However, the past five years have proven that the program isn't working anywhere in Canada, not even in Quebec, the province for which it was designed. Quebec has legislated French as the sole official language in that province.

Prime Minister Trudeau's preoccupation with bringing home our Constitution is based on two main principles, both of them self-serving, and therefore dangerous. One is to lock bilingualism into the Constitution for all time, while at the same time allowing Quebec to retrain French as the sole language for its own province and to veto any proposed changes in the Constitution relating to language or cultural matters.

The other is to divert attention from the serious economical, social and political problems in our country. Mr. Trudeau blames all our problems on the lack of acceptance in English Canada of bilingualism, and on the fact that our Constitution is in a vault in England. He doesn't explain why other prime ministers were able to govern under these same conditions.

Mr. Richardson's warning must be taken seriously for two reasons. Although a confirmed Liberal, he cannot any longer serve Trudeau as a cabinet minister. And, his political and personal integrity have always been above reproach. For those reasons alone he can and must be believed.

Big, bad winter

The 1976-1977 winter will be a big, bad one, with plenty of cold and snow. And by way of contrast, the summer of 1977 will be scorchingly hot.

The Farmers' Almanac is in its 160th consecutive year of publication and has been producing a special Canadian Edition, with a Canadian weather section for Victoria and Grey Trust Company since 1968.

Eighty-five thousand complimentary copies of the 1977 Edition are available to anyone interested in dropping into anyone of the many Victoria and Grey offices.

From the Chamber
by Bob Stinson

The official opening of PineStone Inn this week-end was a milestone in the development of our county. This new facility is not only a credit to the area but we expect it will help to boost the economy of all types of business here, since the convention business that is expected will introduce many new people to the Highlands. Sunday was "Media" day at PineStone and the owners went to considerable expense to bring in and entertain people from Radio, T.V., newspapers and magazines. Mr. Art Ward was good enough to invite the Chamber to participate and meet some of these people who we hope can generate some publicity for us. We noted that many of these people were not familiar with Haliburton prior to this trip. The day would have to be considered a success and an indication of many great things to come as a result of these gentlemen that had the foresight to make PineStone a reality.

Mr. Leo McCarthy advised us this week that the Federal Business Development Bank is preparing to run a Small Business Management Seminar for us at the PineStone Inn on Nov. 10th. The seminar will run from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and lunch will be provided at $15.00 per person. All business people in the county can certainly benefit from the expertise of this organization.

The Kawartha Tourist Association are holding their annual meeting this week at the Rock Haven Hotel in Peterborough. They called to advise us that they will be holding a Seminar and panel discussion from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Thursday afternoon regarding the Ontario Government proposals for Property Tax Reform and that interested folks from our area were welcome to attend. Robert Weir, who drafted the proposals will be in attendance and the meeting should be worthwhile to anyone concerned with what this tax reform is going to do to business costs. A Smorgasbord Dinner is going to be served following the meeting at a total cost of $8.00 each.

The Ministry of Industry and Tourism are presently compiling information for the Henry Davis Travel Industry Trade Show to be held in Toronto on November 1st. All accommodation operators who have winter facilities and are willing to work through Travel Agents at a 10 per cent commission are urged to contact the ministry immediately. Write to the Travel Trade Section, Min. of Industry and Tourism, Hearst Block, 900 Bay Street, Toronto M7A 2E5, and advise them of how much accommodation you have available, what facilities you have or have access to, and your rates, including week-end packages etc.

The new board of Directors of the Chamber met for the first meeting last week and asked that president Dennis Weymouth, and Vice President Dennis Casey retain their offices for a second year. They agreed to do so, and this of course means that Bill Foote is now in his second year as Past President, forming the balance of the Management committee. This committee will be meeting next week to set up the working committees of the rest of the board.

The Chamber of Commerce applied early last summer to have a Canada Manpower office opened in Haliburton and we have just been advised that our application has been accepted and the office will be open as soon as a suitable location can be obtained and the staff of two hired. This office will not only be used to help locate jobs for people in need of work but will also be active in setting up retraining programmes that fit the needs of our community. We feel it's a giant step in the right direction.

We have one more location for the new phone books, Emmerson Lumber in Haliburton now has them on sale. Don't forget your tickets for the Elimination Draw-Dance, there are only 150 available and all directors have them on hand.

COMING EVENTS

October 23 - Minden Minor Hockey Dance - 9:00 p.m. at the Minden Community Centre - Live Band - Bar - Lunch - 8:00 per couple.

November 3 - Level One Referees Clinic - Haliburton Arena

November 10 - F.B.D.B. Seminar for Small Business Management - 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. - include luncheon - $15.00 each.

Gems of Truth

"And for this cause God shall send them strong delusions, that they should believe a lie." 11 Thes; 2:11.

The reference to the "lie" in this passage of Scripture is quite clearly a reference to a particular falsehood and deception. What this may be can be ascertained by the context in this portion of God's Word. The writer the Apostle Paul, is here speaking of the coming "man of sin," the wicked one "or lawless one", and in this chapter describes him as the one "whose coming is after the working of "satan" with all power and signs and lying wonders" (verse 9). This great person will be Satan's masterpiece of falsehood and deception. He will be the devil himself, incarnate in a human being, the full and final display of unrighteousness, sin and lawlessness. He will be what avowed enemy and antagonist of the Messiah and Christ. He will oppose God and exalt himself, "so that he as God sitteth in the Temple of God, shewing himself that he is god" verse 4 and by the signs and wonders which he will perform, he will confirm his claim. In this way the vast mass of mankind who have not received the Truth and the Christ will be deceived and will accept the "anti-christ" and will worship him as God.

The reason for this acceptance is because of the rejection of truth and the Christ of God, a judicial blindness shall fall upon all who reject the Truth. Instead, the Christ of humanity, who will be Satan himself, will be accepted and his masterpiece of deception and opposition to the Lord of Glory will be performed.

The drift of our present day with the already deplorable spiritual condition, calls for a strong and faithful Christ-like teaching and living by all of the true believers in the Lord Jesus Christ. Satan's first and supreme objective in this day and age is to keep men and women and all mankind from believing in the Lord Jesus unto salvation. To this end he invents and operates all his hellish and deceitful devices. We are reminded of this in 11 Cor. 4:3-4 where the Holy Spirit moved Paul to write, "If our Gospel be hid (or veiled) it is hid to them that are lost, in whom the god of this world (age) hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

We need to know and recognize that Satan is forever seeking to lift up humanity, to improve the social order, to reform the world system, to establish a religious civilization, and to eliminate vice and poverty. He does not care what we do toward the uplift of humanity, as long as humanity is not lifted from the death of sin to a newness of life through faith in the Son of God our Saviour. It is for this reason that the great enemy of the Lord Jesus is ever seeking to have God's people occupied with the bi-products of Christianity and the things that have to do with the advancement of humanity and the improvement of the social order. Satan is ever seeking to get the Church to substitute works and human attainment for Christ and religion ceremonialism and social service for Bible salvation. His avowed motto is "anything but Christ." He admires culture, ethics, social service, but he despises salvation by the Blood. He loudly acclaims religion, good works, good character building and nice religious living, but he hates the preaching of the Crucified, Risen, Exalted and Returning Jesus. He easily concedes to the preaching of a human Jesus, preaching about the carpenter and the man of benevolence or the living according to the "Golden Rule", but he hates the doctrine of the "Deity of Christ and redemption by His Blood Sacrifice. Satan well knows that the preaching of the Deity of Christ and redemption by His Blood will lift mankind from sin to newness of life in Him if believed. Thus he advocates reform, world betterment, improvement of social order.

The purification of th political life and betterment of humanity, but he hates the doctrine of the Lord's Return to earth again. He well knows that his own doom is sealed at that Return, as well as of those who are in league with him.

To reach his objective Scripture states that Satan transforms himself into an angel of light and his ministers transform themselves into ministers of righteousness 11 Cor. 11:13-15. Satan's ministers preach righteousness apart from that bestowed upon believers by the Righteous One. Such ministers preach social righteousness, political righteousness, but it is a righteousness wrought out by man and according to man's standard a righteousness apart from the personal Return of Christ and His reign on earth.

Gods program of peace and justice and redemption centers in Christ. He has no other! The Scriptures proclaim this program, therefore the evil one assaults the Scriptures, and seeks to overthrow the faith of men in their Divine inspiration authenticity and authority. Satan inflates men with pride and self-conceit and so gets them to exalt human reason above Divine Revelation. It is thus that the human heart is filled with unbelief toward God and His Word, so much so, that with great swelling words, they proclaim their human exploitations and doctrines of doubt. Satan's supreme objective in all this is to keep people from accepting the truth concerning the Lord Jesus Christ.

The world of to-day has been sadly shaken by this trend of intellectual spouting void of an enthroned Christ. For too long has the professing Christian Church been the scape-goat of Satan's devices. This world needs Christ and He alone is the answer to the deplorable state of mankind in the midst of plenty. Scripture calls us to "awake" out of our sleep. Romans 13:11 "awake" to true righteousness, 1 cor 15:34 "awake" to the true light. Ephesians 5:14.

Gerry Howarth

Warden wants better communications

Poor communications between Haliburton County's townships and between the townships and county council could hinder the county's development, county Warden Gerry Howarth feels.

With his one term coming to an end on Saturday with the annual Warden's banquet, Mr. Howarth has given every proof of his willingness to work for the better communications that will mean a more advanced county. Mr. Howarth has spent this last year doing more than his position requires in attempting to improve understanding between the levels of county government.

The County Warden regularly acts as chairman of the County Council and also sits on each of the council's committees. Each committee meets three or four times per year. The Warden is busy, and also well informed. He is in a position to know more than others what proceedings and programs have been instituted at a county level.

Mr. Howarth has not only been conscientious in fulfilling his prescribed duties, he has made a point of visiting the township councils which has not been a part of the Warden's schedule in the past.

So perhaps, more than past Wardens Mr. Howarth is in touch with the county government at all levels. It is an important position he feels since a county must establish good communication channels in order to move forward.

Mr. Howarth has been a part of government since 1970, when he first held a position on an Bycrock Council. He regrets that the Warden's position is only a year term, since he says that by the time a Warden has become familiar with the county and has a sufficient grasp of its problems to work in solutions, the term is over. He did speak of the amount of time and dedication required by any member of municipal or county government. They work long hours, Mr. Howarth says.

with some remuneration, but the amount of energy that is required to deal with the sometimes irate public demands that they be truly interested in and dedicated to the principles that they uphold. It is a problem with an elected position Mr. Howarth feels, that by the time an official fully understands his electorate, his term is due.

The problem must be aggravated with regard to the position of Warden although Mr. Howarth reflected that there may not be too many people who would be willing to accept a two year term as Warden.

There are many who would probably find the position extremely time consuming especially if they chose to follow Mr. Howarth's example. He has to some extent transformed the Warden's position.

His reception, he said, has sometimes been mixed. Ther sometime been mixed. There are those who are slow to accept anything new in government procedure. This will have to change, Mr. Howarth feels, and communications between all levels is the only way to overcome the suspicion and misunderstanding that is often at the root of rejection of government change.

Ontario wants to help you make the most of your Community Arena.

Community centres are the heart of the social, cultural and recreational life of many places in Ontario.

They have been built by people in the community who have contributed their money and their labour and they are one place that everyone can share equally.

Unfortunately, not all these centres were built to the same construction standards. Modern engineering studies have shown that some of them contain dangerous flaws which must be corrected immediately.

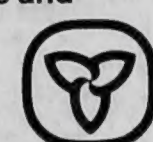

Happily, Ontario is able to help municipalities to do this with extra money from both the Community Recreation Centres Act and Wintario. In most cases, the people in the community need to raise only 25 per cent themselves.

Because we know some arenas are too old or too costly to fix up, we are also ready to work out a plan to help municipalities to build new ones.

If you would like to know how Ontario can help to fix up your community centre or build a new one, write to:
